Celebrate 50th Wedding Anniversary

Saturday afternoon, with a setting of flowers in shades of gold in the artistic home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray F. Stadler, 430 N. Canon, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schlicher received more than 70 guests who came to congratulate the couple on their 50th wedding anniversary. The home was filled with flowers, many as gifts from admiring friends. Mrs. Schlicher's gown was a print and her corsage was talisman roses. Mrs. Stadler wore a gray print with white corsage.

Mrs. Marie Trams poured. The wedding cake of many tiers was decorated with gold flowers and was the center decoration with the gold candlesticks and white tapers for the lace-covered table.

The Schlichers were married in Wabash, Ind., and lived in Chicago until 1944 when they came West to make their home.

Founder of Suman Pottery Celebrated 80th Birthday Wed.

The 80th birthday of Harry P. Suman was celebrated Wednesday, October 31, by the employees of the Suman Pottery. Mr. Suman's interest in ceramics started a business that now includes over 100 Sierra Madre residents whose work is sold and admired in every part of the United States, as well as in several foreign countries.

Besides Lawrence Suman, artist, who has assisted his father in the business, Mr. Suman has two other prominent sons, Chas. P. Suman, Chief of the Bureau of Internal Revenue, Washington, D.C., and John J. Suman, secretary and auditor of the Pacific Electric R.R. Company of Los Angeles.

Mr. Suman is a native of Washington, D.C. He retired from W. P. Fuller Paint Co. eight years ago, but like many of our Sierra Madre citizens, could not accustom himself to inactivity. "Work is really fun at 80," said Mr. Suman.

THREE LOCAL ARTISTS MEMBERS OF GUILD

The city of Sierra Madre now has three local artists as members of the "Women Painters of the West." Catherine Tuttle of E. Laurel is the latest to be admitted to the society. The other members are Mrs. Helen Narozny, 630 Fairview, and Mrs. Margaret Cash, 243 E. Montecito, who recently moved to the city.

VETERANS' CORNER

EDITOR'S NOTE—This portion of the paper will be devoted to information for service men returning to civilian life. We suggest clipping this material each week and keeping it for the man in your family who will eventually return.

All of the important rights and privileges of Veterans have been explained, with the exception of loans for homes, farms and business.

If those interested have kept copies of these articles, they should have an accurate knowledge of Veterans' rights and where to apply if advice or assistance is desired.

The procedure for obtaining loans is at present so complicated that comparatively few have been applied for, and of these only a small number have been granted. A bill now is pending in Congress to simplify the procedure. This bill is well supported and no doubt will be approved.

As soon as the new procedure is adopted it will be explained. In the meantime Veteran's Corner will not be used except as new information or new regulations are received.

Fr. Edwin Ronan, C.P., and Madam Quezon, wife of President Quezon of the Philippine Islands. Fr. Ronan went to the Philippines at the request of President Quezon and was practically a member of the Quezon family until they were ordered to leave Corregidor. This is the first meeting of the priest with Madam Quezon and her three children who accompanied here to the Mater Dolorosa Monastery last week, since February, 1942.

Mr. and Mrs. Taxpayer to Hear About Sanitation Dist.

If you saw on your tax bill, listed as Sanitation District, .30c per hundred, would you know what it was for?

Such a thing is possible. The City Council, aiming to inform taxpayers of the pending sanitation district setup, has arranged to have Mr. Rawn, chief engineer of the Los Angeles County Sanitation Districts, speak at a public meeting in the City Hall next Thursday, November 8, at 7:30 p.m.

An opportunity will be given to find out just how the District Sanitation will affect Sierra Madre. Inasmuch as this matter must be decided by the Council and will only come to a public vote in case of protest, Mayor Schwartz and the Council desire the public to become thoroughly familiar with the situation. This will be a major expenditure and the payments of the same will extend far beyond the term of office of the present Council.

"95 IN '45" NEARING GOAL

The committee of the "95 in '45" campaign of the Congregational church is anxious to have all outstanding pledges in this week. If all who promised contributions send in their amount a balance of only $857.90 would remain of the $9500 goal, almost realized.

It is the ambition of the committee to make the necessary effort to have the campaign closed and burn the mortgage on Thanksgiving.

Sgt. Reyes Has Discharge From AAF

S/Sgt. Gilbert Reyes, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Reyes, 179 North Grove St., was honorably discharged today from the separation base maintained at Santa Ana by the Army Air Forces.

S/Sgt. Reyes is a veteran of 28 months of service in the Army Air Forces and served in England as a gunner.

The AAF has awarded him the Air Medal with four oak leaf clusters.

Brig.-Gen. Arthur E. Easterbrook, commanding general of the SAAAB, declared:

"The fact that a man has served honorably with the AAF marks him among the cream of the crop. We think many of tomorrow's leaders will spring from the outstanding young men who have made up the victorious Army Air Forces."

Before entering the service he was a student.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH INAUGURATES CALENDAR

The Church of the Ascension has issued its first publication of the monthly calendar. This paper contains church announcements, news, church dates, letter from the rector, Fr. Harley G. Smith, baptisms, burials and serves as a parish directory.

Mrs. Harlan Ware is the editor-in-chief and has produced a most worthy edition.

THIS REALLY HAPPENED

One of Uncle Sam's drivers in Australia was informed by a traffic cop that he would have to get a driver's license. He made application and received his license. Then the official said:

"I'll have to go around the block with you to see if you can drive."

"All right," said the driver, "here we are," pointing to his vehicle.

The Aussie looked at the truck and paused. Then he said, "I guess you can drive."

It was a loaded ammunition truck!

To the People of this Community

Extra Victory Bonds are on sale. Bankers will say that they are the best investment ever offered you. The GIs in conquered Tokyo and Berlin will say that today is a new moment for you to show that you are keeping faith. The economist will say the Victory Loan is the opening of the home front's greatest anti-inflation offensive. Ted R. Gamble, National Director of the War Finance Division, declares that millions of volunteers are in action with inexhaustible supplies of an incomparable product to sell fellow Americans.

The Victory Loan is all of these things. It represents your will to help the government pay off war costs, care for the wounded, maintain our troops abroad, finance the return to civilian life of millions of fighting men.

From every angle, you will be serving your own best interest by seeking out the nearest Victory Bond salesman. You can't buy too many or too often for your own good.

Fr. Ronan Speaker at Kiwanis Tuesday

Fr. Edwin Ronan, C.P., was the speaker at the Kiwanis luncheon Tuesday and gave a most interesting talk about his experiences as a prisoner of war of the Japs. He told of organizing the chaplains, Protestant and Catholic, for President Quezon in the Philippines prior to the war and his trying experiences following his capture at Mindanao.

Fr. Ronan responded to questions by the members and emphasized the fact that he and those with him would never have survived had it not been for the Red Cross boxes which did get through. Many did not get to them and many had been tampered with by the Japs.

William Estes of the Sierra Madre Ice Co. was taken into the membership of the club.

H. Hollingshead of the Monrovia club attended the meeting in the interests of the San Gabriel Valley Symphony orchestra season. Three concerts will be given, in December, March and May. Francis Eakman has been appointed to have charge of the sale of tickets for Sierra Madre.

Bruce McGill announced that President E. Eugene Lunsford was about to become a father—father to a little Girl Scout for the annual Father-Daughter banquet evening, and he was asked to pay a $15 fine for the privilege. Harry Lange was fined for the fine string of fish he brought back from a recent fishing trip.

FAT SALVAGE LOWER

The relaxation from war efforts is evident even in the fat shortage. The month of September in Sierra Madre shows a lowered per cent. The quota of 623 pounds was met with only 573 fat pounds from local kitchens, a 92 per cent achievement.

Arts Guild Presents Capt. O'Banion in "People Behind Chinese Revolution"

Paintings by Dr. Jacob Will Be on Exhibition

Capt. Ansel O'Banion of Sierra Madre, well known as the co-author with Carl Glick of the book, "Double Ten," which is the story of Captain O'Banion's part in the Chinese Revolution of 1911, is to be the speaker at the November meeting of the Guild, to be held at 8:30 p. m., Friday evening, November 2, at the Old Brick Oven Studio, 28 Windsor Lane. The subject of his talk is to be "People Behind the Chinese Revolution."

As set forth in detail in his book, a story that is as exciting and as full of interest as any tale of adventure, Captain O'Banion played a leading role in furthering the cause of the Chinese Revolution and, of course, met and knew well all the now famous men connected with that historic event. Dr. Sun Yat-sen, the "Father of the Revolution," commissioned Homer Lea, an American citizen, as a general under his new government to raise and organize the Chinese Revolutionary Army. General Lea, in turn, chose Captain O'Banion, then a sergeant, to train these Chinese troops. Since this work could not be done in China, it was done in the United States, and since the United States did not then recognize the new Chinese Republic, the work had to be done here with the greatest secrecy under the very noses of our Government officials. Many of these trainees, because of our exclusive immigration laws, had to be smuggled into the country and, in order not to attract adverse attention, they had to be trained in small units or companies at widely scattered points across the country. Some of these companies were trained in an old armory that once stood near the site of the early Hay Market in Los Angeles, where the Union Station now stands. These Chinese youths so trained by Captain O'Banion later became the officers and the nucleus of the present Chinese Republican Army.

In the course of this work, Captain O'Banion made a number of trips to China, being smuggled in and out under the cover of night as he himself smuggled Chinese into this country. In China, as well as here, he met and worked with Dr. Sun and the other leaders of the Revolution. It is of these men and of those whom he once trained as boys that he will speak to the Guild.

In addition to this program, there will be an exhibition of water colors, paintings of Army scenes and of places overseas, by Dr. Nathan Jacobs, Pfc. Bernard Wynne, Pfc. Howard Morgridge, and Lt. Warren Rogers of Pasadena. Lt. Rogers sketches were made in a prison camp in Germany. The showing of the kodachromes that was to have been made now, is to be held over for the December meeting. The public is invited.

Ensign George D. Shipway

George D. Shipway will graduate tomorrow, November 2, at Notre Dame University in Indiana. Son of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Shipway, 292 E. Laurel, George went to Notre Dame four months ago after studying two years in the V-12 program at Cal-Tech in the engineering school. He will receive his Ensign commission tomorrow and report for ship duty on the U.S.S. Princeton in Philadelphia.

Dr. E. M. Trejo at Bethany Tuesday

The Woman's Missionary Society will meet Tuesday, November 6, 10:30 a.m., at Bethany church. Mr. and Mrs. Carlson, recent arrivals from French Indo-China, will be guest speakers at 11 a.m. Mrs. Carlson is a talentetd musician.

There will be a potluck luncheon at 1:30. Thomas W. Mitchell who served four years in the South Pacific as secretary to the Advocate General's office will lead devotions. His subject, "The Best Dish."

The two o'clock speaker will be Elena M. Trejo, M.D., a native of Quinche Indian tribe, Guatamala, a descendant of the Mayan Indians whose extinct civilization is one of the wonders of the world, who will be a most enthralling speaker. This famous surgeon, born in a cornstock hut, after conquering the impossible, stands today triumphant before an astonished world. So brilliant is her surgical skill that fame and fortune lie at her feet but she will soon return to her native Guatemala people to bring healing to the soul as well as the body. She proposes to build a hospital, church and school. Everyone is invited to hear this greatly beloved doctor.

GIRL SCOUTS ATTEND ST. RITA'S IN GROUP

Once a year Girl Scouts and their leaders attend church in a body. Last Sunday at St. Rita's 80 girls were in attendance at the 11 o'clock mass. Father Eustace gave a thoughtful sermon in keeping with Girl Scout ideals, and special music was given by the choir.

ENTERTAIN SUNDAY FOR DAUGHTER FROM EAST

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Dewey with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Burke entertained Sunday afternoon at the Dewey home, Canyon Crest Dr., with a cocktail party for Mrs. Orrin Zoline of New York City. More than 60 guests called to meet Mrs. Zoline, daughter of the Deweys, and among the out-of-town were Capt. William Bock of West Virginia, Mr. and Mrs. John Howard Lawson and Mrs. William Rock of Hollywood. Mrs. Zoline returns to the East next week.

To Enlist Every Child is Junior Red Cross Goal

The Junior Red Cross membership drive is starting today in all schools, the period between November 1 and 15 having been designated nationally as American Junior Red Cross Enrollment for Service Campaign. This campaign is held each year by the American Red Cross to enroll boys and girls for service to the community, the nation and the world. A pupil is entitled to membership when he has made a voluntary contribution, assisted in a group project to earn a group contribution or signified a desire to participate in a Junior Red Cross activity whether he has contributed money or not. By enrolling in the Junior Red Cross, skills and contributions of boys and girls are directed to ends both socially and educationally sound.

Last year, the Junior Red Cross members made many comfort and recreation articles for servicemen in hospitals and camps and packed Christmas gift boxes for children in Allied countries. The need this year is greater than ever for relief of children in war-torn Europe and the Philippines, gifts for servicemen still overseas and in hospitals and for assistance in rebuilding Junior Red Cross societies all over the world. The goal is 100 per cent membership in the schools, and it is hoped that every pupil will be eager to serve others and to co-operate in Junior Red Cross activities.

TO BUY A BOND IS TO SAVE, NOT TO GIVE

With a quota of $126,000 in Victory Bonds to be sold in the City of Sierra Madre, the committee, consisting of some 40 canvassers, under the direction of Dan Reib, has started its canvass of the city.

Starting October 29 and continuing until December 8, members of the committee will attempt to contact every individual and firm in the city.

Stressing the fact that the aftermath of the war is as financially huge as was the execution of the war itself, Secretary of the Treasury, Fred M. Vinson says, "We must bring the boys home as soon as possible, care for the wounded, supply mustering out pay, and maintain occupational forces in Germany and Japan. These and other aftermath-of-war responsibilities make the success of the "Victory Loan" a must for our nation."

ARCADIA OPPOSES PROPOSED SANTA ANITA MESA PLAN

The Arcadia Planning Commission has recommended that the proposed map for the subdivision of Rancho Santa Anita or Santa Anita Mesa as it is now called, be changed to provide for lots siding on Michillinda instead of backing up as formerly approved.

Subdividers pointed out that flood conditions would prevent them from fronting their lots on Michillinda and arranged for a 30-foot landscaped setback. John Malone of the County Planning Commission stated that Michillinda is a part of the main highway plan and will eventually be widened. He recommended that the proposed design be changed so that lots either side on Michillinda or face it.

Petitions for the change of zoning from R-1 to C-2 at the corner of Michillinda Blvd. and Huntington Dr. to provide for a $200,000 theatre to be erected on that corner was presented and a hearing was set for the November commission meeting.

He is survived by a brother, Thomas Flynn of Sierra Madre; a sister, Mrs. Wernel of Kansas City, Mo., which was Mr. Flynn's birthplace.

The recitation of the Rosary was held at the Grant Chapel Friday. Interment was at Calvary Cemetery.

The Frog TALKS about ROBERTS MARKET and Things!

Quarrels never could last long,
If on one side only lay the wrong.
—B. Franklin.

AS I SIT HERE watching the day-by-day procession of shoppers I have time to reflect, and time to note the foibles of you folks who make our business possible. Most of you are kind, honest and courteous. The others are so few they do not count. But you are all interesting. Too bad the girls and boys working around me don't have more time to get to know you better.

IT MAKES ME HAPPY to see so many long-absent friends returning from distant places and Lord knows what experiences, good and bad! I think there is nostalgia in all of us for old friends, old faces, old places.

NOW TO GO ABOUT my business: The Persimmons are luscious. I'll ask MOM to give you her recipe for Persimmon Pudding next week. It's yummy! Black and Red Grapes, Bartlett and Winter Nellis Pears are among the good, desirable fruits still available. Fuerte Avocados are coming on the market again. Pretty high, but very tasty and high in butter fat content. Bananas are coming in more regularly. Cranberries will be plentiful before long—so we are told! And oh, yes, I can honestly say that our Northern Apples are better than you will find most places!

NOVEMBER IS HERE AGAIN! Soon we will be skidding helter-skelter right into Thanksgiving—and then Christmas!

THE TABLE SHOULD BE WELL-LADEN THIS THANKSGIVING! Plenty of Prime Turkeys—which, by the way, you should order now to be sure of the best selection; nuts of all kinds, including Chestnuts for the turkey stuffing; a better supply and variety of canned and frozen fruits and vegetables than you have seen for several years; AND delicious fruit cakes reasonably priced, either plain or Rum and Brandy flavored. Also old-fashioned brandied mince meat in the Delicatessen Department.

THANKFUL TIME

It's coming to thankful time again:
The yellow corn is shining,
And every purple autumn grape
Can show a sugar lining.
The crimson apples crowd the bin.
The nuts are bronzed with sweetness,
The golden pumpkins in the field
Are rounded to completeness.
Our little garden's spicy still,
That was so gay with giving;
The air is frosty-clean—O Love,
We're thankful to be living!

EXCESS BONE AND FAT ARE CUT OFF SAFEWAY MEATS BEFORE WEIGHING

SAFEWAY gives you more tender meat, pound for pound, because every piece of Safeway meat is cut a better, more selective way. At our Central Meat Plant, experts carve meat into perfect large pieces, remove excess bone and waste. From these bulk cuts, skilled meat cutters at Safeway markets slice chops, steaks and roasts of the exact thickness you prefer. Waste fat and bone are removed before your purchase is weighed.

But that isn't all we do to bring you finer meat. To begin with, Safeway buys just the top grades of beef, lamb, pork and veal. These are properly aged to develop utmost tenderness and flavor. No wonder Safeway guarantees you tender, juicy meats every time—or your money back.

Your Safeway market has a few copies of a leaflet that describes the Safeway waste free cutting method. Ask for a copy today.

Here's the Newest Improvement in MOTOR OIL

—a war-born inhibitor that holds oxidation in check

DURING THE WAR years this newly discovered oxidation inhibitor was in military service. It was helping to save our tanks and other fighting vehicles from lubrication failures that would have taken them out of action.

Now, at no increase in cost, you can have this war-born ingredient in your motor oil. Added to Golden Shell during manufacture, it fights the oxidation which results in sludge. It gives you an oil that stays free-flowing, full bodied, and efficient from one oil drain to the next.

As you know, gummy sludge means trouble. It sticks to bearing surfaces, offering little or no lubricating value, and preventing good oil from getting in where it's needed. When this happens, a big repair bill is brewing. So change now to new Golden Shell Motor Oil with oxidation inhibitor. Shell Oil Company, Incorporated.

Like oxidized rubber—
Oxidized Oil is no good

Oxidation is "Bad News." It ruins your garden hose, fades your clothing, rusts your screens. Under extreme conditions of heat, moisture and acid-fumes inside your engine, motor oil also oxidizes. That's why Shell adds this new war-born inhibitor to Golden Shell Motor Oil . . . to protect it from oxidation, and thus protect you from unseen but dangerous sludge.

GUNS FOR PUBLIC PARKS OFFERED BY THE ARMY

Thousands of obsolete guns, howitzers, tanks and other Ordnance items will soon be released to take the place of the community's old cannon or howitzer that went to war via the nationwide scrap drive.

After Pearl Harbor many communities and organizations swelled desperately needed scrap piles with their Civil War cannon and pyramids of cannon balls. Town squares were stripped of all World War I weapons to add to the drive.

Community organizations may now apply for items of obsolete combat material from the Ordnance Department at Washington, D.C.

"CROSS-SECTION" By Mona Lee

The public is invited to use the services of Mona Lee, in this column. Several letters have been received. The following comes next in line for answer. Yours will appear in order of receipt.

Mona Lee, a writer of exceptional judgment, will answer your individual problems if you will write to her, care of "Cross Section," the Sierra Madre News.

Dear Mona Lee:

We have a three-year-old girl and expect a new baby next month. Our problem is this: It is almost impossible to get household help these days and it will be hard for me to manage with the new baby when I come home from the hospital. My mother-in-law wants us to send the little girl to stay with her until I am stronger. We have been preparing her for the new baby and she is thrilled about it. I am afraid that if we send her away, when the baby comes home, it will cause complications. R.E.B.

Dear R.E.B.:

The attitude you take towards the older child upon the advent of a new baby can make or break your future relationship. By no means send the three-year-old away from home in order to facilitate your household arrangements. This would be a cruel disappointment and in her baby mind she would blame the newcomer for her banishment, creating a complex which may never be undone. Why not ask your mother-in-law to come into your home to assist you? If this is not practical, it would be far better to manage as best you can without outside help, even if you are forced to impose small burdens on the little girl. You will be surprised how well she will rise to the occasion in her anxiety to help and maintain her importance in the family circle. She must never be made to feel that she is being displaced in your affections.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB WILL SING FOR KIWANIS TUESDAY

The program at Kiwanis next Tuesday will be local talent. Mrs. Wanda Weihs of the school music department with her Girls' Glee Club will present a program before the Kiwanis luncheon club at noon, November 6.

The Victory Loan

"Our fighting men have finished their job, but our war job will not be finished until we have put the Victory Loan drive over the top.

"Enormous obligations incurred in achieving victory still remain to be met.

Costs of War

"We must pay for the hospitalization and rehabilitation of several hundred thousand servicemen. We must provide the money for bringing home and mustering out millions of veterans now scattered throughout the world. The expense of maintaining large occupation armies must be met."—Robert H. Moulton, War Finance Committee Chairman of Southern California.

(From Files of Oct. 31, 1930)

The flower festival was a great success, exhibiting more varieties of rare tropical fruits and flowers than is possible to grow successfully in any other community of the United States, and shows Sierra Madre honestly won the title of "The Garden Spot of California.

People came from far and wide to see the rarest of orchids, the brilliantly beautiful Bird of Paradise, the luscious Cherimoya or "custard apple," sapotes, dates, bananas, limes, citron, guavas, Natal plums, Chinese ju-jubes, frijoa, avocados, persimmons, oranges, grapefruit, pomegranites, lemons, peaches. In flowers prominent were monster chrysanthemums and dahlias, roses, palms, hibuscus, etc. A cactus garden was prepared by H. E. Jaeger and J. M. Campbell. Dinner at the clubhouse was directed by Mrs. M. R. McBurney. Music by Miss Laura Cadman, quartet by James Heasley, Clarence Nosher, Jack and Dave Buchan. Accompanist, Mrs. Myrtle Hill. Mrs. E. E. Bacon presided.

AROUND AND ABOUT

By EDWARD LLOYD VOORHEES

PARIS FAREWELL — There is no limit, either in quantity or variety, to what may be written about Paris—witness the travel books, novels, plays, and operas centering about its teeming and colorful life. A tourist's personal memoirs, however, written in the sketchy and impressionistic manner of these lines should show a sense of proportion and leave off before the reader does — from boredom or sheer exhaustion! And so, this is farewell to Paris, touching lightly on a few of the remaining highspots of memory.

There was the afternoon when I went by train to visit the beautiful and spectacular pleasure grounds of St. Cloud in the southwest corner of Paris. Standing up in the crowded front platform of the tram I got into conversation with a tall,fine-looking man of soldierly bearing, in civilian dress, who was accompanied by his eight-year-old son and another boy of about the same age going out to St. Cloud to play football on the public playgrounds. M. Delhomme showed me his identity card from which I learned that he was an "Agent" or member of the Paris gendarmerie. He told me that a policeman in Paris is on duty six hours a day and that he receives an annual salary of 22,000 francs — at that time the equivalent of $800 in our money, and that it is enough for a comfortable living. On getting off the tram at St. Cloud we agreed to meet later and return to Paris by one of the Seine boats. The three went to the football field, while I went to see the famous gardens, forest, and the great cascades—which were turned off that day, because it was neither Sunday nor a holiday. After seeing some of the ivy-covered buildings of St. Cloud, I turned up at the football field, where I again met the policeman and the two boys ready to go home—each of the three carrying a bunch of wild flowers! I invited them to have some refreshments with me, and I was impressed by the punctilious politeness of M. Delhomme and the two boys. We then boarded one of the many busy little steamboats that stop every few minutes along the Seine to take on and let off passengers, passing en route the automobile factories of the Renault and Citroen, the great Eiffel tower and the magnificent approach to the Trocadero. During our conversation M. Delhomme spoke with gaiety and warmth of "la bonne fraternite" which he had enjoyed during his service in World War I with the British and American soldiers along the Piave in Italy, and when we all got off the boat at the Alma station, he and the two boys courteously insisted on seeing me to the very entrance of my hotel, althongh it was a considerable distance out of their way. Such is French politeness.

A colorful experience was my visit to a French circus. "Gleich's Cirque" was showing on Avenue Clichy, in what was apparently a workingmen's quarter, where I had a simple but good dinner at a small restaurant of the plain people, which contained four little tables and a bar, alongside which were two card tables where workmen were playing vigorously, slapping down the cards and making other gesticulations as they played their hands. Entering the circus tent on a general admission of about 60c—not a low price for French workmen—I was struck by its simple arrangement. Although vast, the tent was without direct central support, being held up solely by slender wooden poles slanting outward from the ground at a sharp angle to the roof, where their uppen ends formed two large ovals. This gave a peculiar vortex effect to the whole scene, yet an air of insouciance and gaiety. Instead of the three separate rings of "the Greatest Show on Earth" in America, the Gleich Cirque had one long sawdust oval, in which three concentrated performances went on simultaneously, an arrangement which this spectator found more conducive to comfortable concentration of attention.

Lacking the almost overpowering variety, prodigality and speedy efficiency of our American shows, the Gleich Cirque proceeded with the appearance of a casual informality that was charming by its novelty and air of festivity. There was an intermission of 15 minutes, during which some of the audience visited the menagerie, others roamed over the sawdust oval, while still others peered through the windows — whose shades had been left up for that purpose—into the luxuriously furnished little trailers which housed the managers and stars. Being an American tourist avid to miss nothing, I managed of course to cover all three territories in the allotted time! The trapeze and tight wire and equestrial "artists" provided the usual thrills, the clowns and the French idea of "cowboys" amused, and a lion-tamer, Monsieur Wilson," piled up his fierce beasts in a docile pyramid on which he proceeded to mount in precarious triumph. The grand finale was announced by an elephant grumbling loudly as he drew in a gun carriage on which was a cannon whose appearance was bulkly enough for coast defense. A large pocket net was set up about 75 feet ahead of the muzzle, which was then elevated to about 45 degrees. Then the performer climbed out along the barrel and edged himself gently inside and out of sight. There was a moment's dead silence, and then the gunner stepped up to the breech and pulled the firing cord. With a terrific bang! and a flash of light the performer shot out of the muzzle in a spectacular high curve and landed in the net, from which he immediately emerged to prove that he was still all in one piece and to bow to the thunderous applause.

A rainy day is not a particularly good time to visit the royal palace and grounds of Versailles, especially when it is a Sunday, the only day when it is advertised that the fountains will be turned on, and they are not—because it is raining. But that was the situation on my first visit. However, I saw another French crowd enjoying itself—under a sea of umbrellas, for no Frenchman would deny—as some West Coast Americans do—that rain is always wet. On the curious "Pike" which leads up to the gates of the vast palace grounds, I moved slowly among the crowd which was munching refreshments while it gazed at the barkers, lusty bandsmen, hawkers of novelties, and footloose clowns "doing their stuff" bravely in the steady, drizzling rain. And I was reminded of that other crowd which in the summer days of 1789 swept up this same road and stormed these gates to demand bread, and finally the King's life. But this Sunday crowd was evidently more hungry for amusement than for bread.

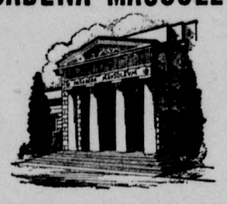

In the palace I walked through the miles of lofty, splendid rooms, hung with gigantic canvasses on which painters had depicted the military glories of French history—a large portion of them dealing with the campaigns which were planned and executed under the genius of NapoleonI, born and reared an Italian, Napoleone Bounaparte, in the island of Corsica, which ceased to be official Italian territory only 11 years before his birth. But the French adored him and died in his armies all over Europe to bring about the "Little Corporal's" idea of the "United States of Europe." Himself elected president of the Italian Republic, he next was "persuaded" to become Emperor of France and then placed three of his brothers on Continental thrones. Is was pretty while it lasted and it's all there in the pictures at Versailles—"la Gloire" which fell to pieces in almost exactly the same number of years as were involved in the rise and fall of Mussolini's dream in Italy, whereas "Corporal" Hitler's dream of the New Order was of somewhat briefer visibility.

Passing through the great Hall of Mirrors, which is perhaps 200 feet long and lined with mirrors 20 feet high, I gazed out of its windows upon the miles of green terraces, lawns, fountains, lakes and woods—a spectacular example of man's control of Nature. Then I examined that long rosewood (or mahogany) table, decorated with gold, on which was signed the disastrous Treaty of Versailles—a spectacular example of man's failure to control himself.

My days in Paris were always crammed, from morn to midnight, with that feverish "activity" for which we American's are celebrated—always on the "go" to see something. I spent restless but attentive hours over the various art collections — the Louvre, the Luxembourg, the Cluny, the Rodin and the miles and miles of new art at the annual Spring Salon. I visited the great churches; saw exotic films; heard "Samson and Delilah" at the Grand Opera; attended various theatres, from the reputedly wicked Moulin Rouge and the Folies Bergere to the grewsome plays at the Grand Guignol and the gilt-edged drama at the Comedie Francaise; and a very impressive English production of "Journey's End" at the Theatre Albert. I browsed among the bookstores near the Odeon and among the pushcart marts along the Seine's quays, shot up to the 985-foot top of the Eiffel tower—which sways a 8-inch arc in the breeze!—sat down cross-legged on a rug to have thick coffee in the Arab quarter, and joined the tilting of noses at the Dom and the Rotonde over beer and aperitifs with the American expatriates and fellow tourists—in short, I "saw" Paris.

"The last time I saw Paris" is a phrase which has become symbolic of something lovely and nostalgic of that far-off time of which I have written so sketchily and inadequately. Today Paris is hungry and cold; the infant mortality is said to be 75 per cent at present; and an instructor from the college of my former residence has recently written from Paris, in the U. S. Morale Division: ". . . a sad sight for anyone who has ever loved that city. The people look bedraggled, the former elegance is gone, the stores look like 14th Street." But Paris is a Phoenix; she will rise again!

VICTORY LOAN
They Finished Their Job---
Let's Finish Ours

The Victory Loan campaign is on—the last of the Government's great drives to finance the cost of war and victory on a sound economic basis.

The war is over. Victory is won—but there is a tremendous job still ahead. Sons, husbands and fathers all over the world must be brought home safely—and QUICKLY. Hundreds of thousands of our fighting men must be cared for—nursed from battle wounds to health.

The job ahead is still big—and costly. Once again—for the last time—our Government is asking that every citizen invest his cash and savings to the limit of his ability in the world's safest security.

Victory Bonds, like currency, are obligations of the U. S. Government but they are better than currency because they pay a good rate of interest—in fact, a better rate than can be paid on savings by banks under present conditions.

This is what's behind that CHEVRON SIGN

Lots of folks are curious about our new Chevron Gas Station. So here are the answers to the questions you've been asking—the story of how Standard of California is helping us establish our identity as an independent merchant.

1 No, our gas station hasn't changed hands. The new name, the new paint job are just to establish us as an independent businessman. Lots of folks who like the personal service they get at an independent gas station didn't know we vere "home-owned." We've taken this means of making the fact plain.

2 You bet we'll continue to handle Standard products. We want to offer our customers the finest—and that means Chevron Supreme Gasoline and RPM motor oils. Our service and accessories will be just the same, too.

3 Sure, we'll honor Standard credit cards—if you don't have one we will be glad to take your application—NOW.

REMEMBER . . the same products, the same service, the same folks to serve you

FIRE FLAMES

As the older members of the fire department retire and grow older, the future of the fire department depends upon the members that are new. If they desire that it remain a Volunteer organization, they must begin immediately to enter into the activities and promote beneficial motions into the meetings. The spirit of the old timers has always been to allow a member's voice to be heard. Regardless that a fellow may have just become an active part of the company, there is nothing in the rules that forbids him from "saying his little piece." If the writer's advice is of any value, there is no harm in offering a few suggestions. One of these would be—Object to anything objectionable at meetings. Don't sit back and let something pass that you feel will do harm to the organization in the future. It is your club as well as any member's in the meeting. Do anything that will create interest; without it, the organization is going to flop. The majority of the men who are regular attendants (at the meetings) are fellows who have recently joined or who are of an age that will permit them to stay members for many years. It is this majority that must take the responsibility to keep the fire department in existence under the present status. If it is considered that a change is necessary, then these same members must discuss this, and come to a conclusion. Much must be done. We can't stay away from drills and meetings and expect someone else to carry on.

To "hook up" to a fire plug sounds simple enough and to do so when everything goes smoothly would indicate that it was a simple matter. It is surprising to see at each drill just how much each of us forget from time to time. If it were not for the regular drills, it is very doubtful whether any firemen would retain the knowledge of a simple connection that gets the machine ready for pumping. The drills are of great importance and we can't have them too often. More drills are necessary.

An election was held to fill the vacancy left by Bob Babbitt, and Mercer Duff was selected. "Duff" was the choice and he will now be expected to "spout off" with a will. He will be considered an Active member and will have the power of the vote. Of course, he is reminded that he must serve six months as a "Probationary" before he is considered a full fledged "Active." Much of the rough ride of the goat is still to be experienced. It is suggested that he refrain from too many boasts as to just what he will do to the goat. Goats may resent that sort of thing.

It is rather regrettable that two of our oldest and of long standing members should forget to provide the evening's doughnuts last Friday. Whether "Shorty" Steinberger depended on "Mac" McMillan or just how it came about—these two are nevertheless subject to severe criticism and possible condemnation and absolute wreckage at the next meeting. They will at least be fined fanciful for the neglect.

The committee responsible for the finding of a place in which to hold the forthcoming Dance and Card Party and music to dance by, reported that everything in this respect is set for December 15th at the Women's Clubhouse. This respectful committee is Johnson and Brown. Tickets are now being printed and will soon be sold about town. This year's proceeds will be turned toward charity as always.

Two of our most devoted members drove to Los Angeles to get parts for "Old Snort." Upon their return, the package was opened only to find that the clerk at the storeroom had given them someone else's package. Just another delay to prevent the old truck from being back on the job. Unless it rains before this is printed, it won't hurt to remind that everything is dry as tinder. A small spark could surely make a large unwanted fire. As long as that little spark of love remains within the hearts of youth, there is little danger. FIRES OUT.

ALA ACTIVITIES

Unit No. 297 was pleasantly surprised at its Thursday night meeting and Hallowe'en party at the home of Anne Willumsen by a visit from two of the 18th District officers, Mrs. Nellie Von Baron, vice-president and membership chairman, and Mrs. Eleanor Morgan, chairman of the Past Presidents' Parley, both from Azusa. Mrs. Von Baron spoke on the district's child welfare work at Van Valzer sanitarium for tubercular children and Mrs. Morgan gave a resume of work among ex-service women hospitalized at San Fernando facility. The local unit decided to adopt a hospitalized ex-service woman which means we will remember her with gifts on all holidays.

Mrs. Harry Faller, a new member, was welcomed into the Unit.

Committees were appointed for the Legion Armistice dance.

The next meeting will be November 8 at the home of Maybelle Barker, 233 Ramona Ave.
